Nonprofit Association of Oregon Welcomes Adrienne Graham as Senior Consultant/Regional Director for Central Oregon

Portland, Ore. – Nonprofit Association of Oregon is pleased to announce the appointment of Adrienne Graham as Senior Consultant/Regional Director for Central Oregon. In this role, Adrienne will provide capacity building and leadership organizational consulting and support services to the region’s nonprofit organizations. Many in the nonprofit sector are already familiar with Adrienne, who has served as NAO’s Regional Director for Central Oregon, a position she has held in a contractual capacity with NAO since 2014.

Adrienne founded Leapfrog Training & Facilitation in 2005, a consulting firm that delivered strategic planning, leadership development and organizational effectiveness training and facilitation to nonprofits, community groups and associations, including NAO. With the increased NAO activities, Adrienne has made the decision to transition from owning her own business (Leapfrog) to joining the NAO staff team to serve a broader client base, grow NAO’s associate consultant team in the region and to leverage NAO’s portfolio of capacity building and professional development consulting team.

Adrienne has 12 years of nonprofit executive director experience and more than 20 years of training, consulting and facilitation experience in the public and private sector. Prior to launching Leapfrog, Adrienne designed and delivered community leadership and organizational development programs for The Ford Family Foundation’s Community Program. Adrienne is a BoardSource-trained facilitator in Non-Profit Board Assessment and Development, is certified in Appreciative Inquiry (AI), a certified facilitator for the national Points of Light Foundation Youth Leadership Institute and is a facilitator-trainer for Study Circles.

“We are delighted at Adrienne’s expanded role at NAO. The team has worked closely with her over the years and we are fortunate to have her bring her expertise and talents in-house to continue serving Central Oregon and other communities,” said NAO Director of Consulting Services Victor Vasquez.

Adrienne lives in Sisters, Oregon, where she enjoys the bountiful opportunities for hiking, mountain biking and cross-country skiing. She can be reached at: 541.678.5004 and agraham@nonprofitoregon.org.
